

Goddess of Air - 22 yards of tablewoven trim form the framework for the loom woven gown. Each edge and the head-piece tablewoven. 67 tablets 96 ends per inch, pearl weft.

Goddess of Earth - Tablewoven trim lines the front opening of the coat and cuffs and can be seen at the neckline of the dress. 89 epi.

"Threads of Myth and History: The Woven Art of Diana Brenna" installed in the San Luis Obispo Art Center. The one woman show ran from July into late August 2006. These four figures, "The Elements: Air, Water, Fire and Earth," were exhibited for the first time. The Celtic Legends collection was also on view.

Goddess of Fire - Headpiece and all edges of loom woven gown tablewoven. 10 yards trim, 95 epi.

Goddess of Water - Tablewoven bands edge the whole loom woven gown which is cocoon shaped. Also the headpiece is tablewoven and supports the shells.